ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA.

At rules held in the Clerk's office of the Intermediate Court on the first Monday in December, 1934—

Belle Anderson, executrix of the last will and testament of Enos M. Anderson, deceased, plaintiff, vs. John E. H. Pitzer, defendant—in chancery.

The object of this suit is to recover from said defendant, John E. H. Pitzer, the sum of three hundred and forty-nine and 84/100 ($349.84) dollars, with lawful interest thereon, and the costs of said suit, and to subject a certain parcel or lot of land belonging to said defendant, situated in the Fifth ward of the City of Fairmont, Marion county, West Virginia, conveyed unto said defendant by Pearl M. Pitzer, by deed bearing date on the 10th day of February, A. D. 1893, recorded in Deed Book 119, page 408, in the office of the County Court of Marion county, West Virginia, to the payment of said debt, interest and costs, and for general relief.

And affidavit having been made and filed that the said defendant, John E. H. Pitzer, is a non-resident of the State of West Virginia, the said defendant is required to appear in the Clerk's office of our said Intermediate Court, at rules to be held therein, within 30 days after the first publication of this order to do what is necessary to protect his interests.

And it is ordered that a copy of this order be published and posted as required by law.

SOCIETY

THE "BOYS"

Will Try to "Get Even" With the Clever Girls.

This unique invitation has been issued:

"The Boys" request your presence at an informal dance Country style, to be given at Sample's "Town Hall" on Monday evening, January second.
 Nineteen hundred and five, at eight-thirty P. M.

The patronesses are Mrs. L. L. Malone, Mrs. M. A. Joliff, Mrs. Preston Crowell, Mrs. George Fletcher.

The committee in charge is composed of the following well known young gentlemen: Messrs. Luke Robertson, Earl McCray, Vaughn Joliff, Carney Christie, French McCray, Fred Gibson, June Clark and George Reese.

The young ladies are expected to come in their most ordinary (or extraordinary) clothes, just as they prefer, only they must resemble as nearly as possible the types they are to represent.

The patronesses, too, are expected to adopt a severe simplicity of style, while the young men will doubtless swagger in true country bumpkin attire.

The idea will be still further carried out by the "Town Hall" decorations, which will consist of a lavish use of corn sheaves, straw, jack-o'-lanterns, etc. The refreshments will also be in the good old country style, and as such will be relished as only such things can be.

Prof. MacArthur will furnish the music for the occasion.

The young men of the city, of whom the committee mentioned is only a small per cent, feel greatly their social obligations to the young ladies, and wish in this way to offer some slight return for the many charming entertainments at which they have been guests.

The mode adopted is a very happy one, and an evening of unalloyed pleasure is anticipated.

MRS. HARRY HARTLEY

Pleasantly Entertained Her Friends Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Hartley entertained a number of the married ladies of the city with cards in her pretty apartments on Main street yesterday afternoon from two-thirty until five. Holly and floral Christmas bells were used with artistic decorative effect, and the idea was further carried out by the score cards, which were bell shaped red pasteboard, tied with red ribbon with tiny metal bells as clappers. Red pasteboard numbers marked the tables. Six-handed euchre was the chosen diversion, and seven tables were occupied by the players. At the close of two hours' spirited contest the first prize was presented to Mrs. E. F. Hartley, and she was made the proud possessor of an exquisite copy of Lowell's "Vision of Sir Launfal," in Roycroft binding. To Mrs. Alan Russell, who won the lone hand prize, was given "Sesame and Lilies," also in Roycroft binding.
 Mrs. Samuel Martin was consoled with a prettily framed Japanese print.
 Mrs. Hartley was assisted in her allotted tasks by Mrs. J. H. Hough and Mrs. Robert Cunningham. At the close of the play the card tables were transformed into lunch tables and a dainty and delectable lunch served.

The guests were in an unusually receptive holiday mood, and because of this and the very great personal popularity of the hostess, an afternoon of especial pleasure was spent by the assembled company.

Forty Couples Danced.

The dance given by Miss Blanche Malone at the Manley Hotel last night was very largely attended, and was for the younger society set, the most brilliant and enjoyable event of the season. The chaperones were Mesdames Lee Malone, Preston Crowell, M. A. Joliff and Robert Cunningham. In issuing the invitations Miss Malone had assigned an escort to each young lady, thus obviating all confusion and disappointment, and insuring prompt attendance. About forty couples danced the glad hours away to the merry strains of Prof.
 Omen's full Opera House orchestra.
 The out of town guests were Miss Nellie Steele and Mr. Charles Peddicord, of Morgantown.

At frequent intervals during the evening punch, legs and cake were served. To a few who did not care to dance, cards formed ample entertainment for the evening, and all were indebted to the hostess for the unqualified pleasure of the occasion.

To Watch Old Year Out.

The following crowd of young ladies and gentlemen will be entertained by Miss Zoe Joliff and Mr. Vaughn Joliff this evening when they compose a theatre party to witness "The Strollers." Misses Margaret Bishop, Louise Cook, Nellie Steele, Laura Williams, Mary Ward, Mary Hay-

$5,000 WARDROBE
CAUSES DIVORCE

MRS. LYDIA CHAMBERLAIN GETS DECREE AND HOTEL WORTH $30,000.

WHEN WIFE BOUGHT DRESSES
 IN NEW YORK HE STOPPED
 CREDIT AT BANK.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 31.—Mrs.
 Lydia Chamberlain, wife of a millionaire medicine manufacturer, has been granted a divorce by Judge Hugh Brennan, in the District Court, on the ground of cruelty. An alimony she was given title to the Chamberlain Hotel, a building just completed at a cost of $350,000. There is a mortgage against it for $90,000. The income from the property is said to be $25,- 000 a year.

The cruelty alleged by Mrs. Chamberlain was that the husband used every possible effort to have her declared insane and confined in an asylum.

She said upon the witness stand she never spent more than $100 a year for clothes until she went to New York City, where she saw many handsomely dressed and invested in a wardrobe worth $5,000.

When her husband heard of this, she says, he immediately wrote the president of the Chemical Bank in New York and told him to refuse her further credit, saying she was insane.

This testimony was corroborated by a nephew, S. M. Brachett, of Iowa City, who saw the letter and mailed it for the millionaire.

This young man further said Mr.
 Chamberlain told him he had employed a brain expert to go to New York to examine Mrs. Chamberlain, but that she would not consent. Then, he says, Mr. Chamberlain said he would have her followed for evidence of insanity.

Mrs. Chamberlain said when her husband built the new hotel he went to a woman with whom she was staying in New York and asked her to move heaven and earth to get Mrs.
 Chamberlain to sign a mortgage to the property.

Mrs. Chamberlain came to Des Moines thirteen years ago from a rural Iowa town and opened a small studio. She attracted great attention because of her beauty and soon caught the eye of the millionaire. He left her court and won her.

After several years of quiet domestic life she began going to New York to further her art studies and it was here she says the motives tempted her, but she says her wardrobe was not unbecoming to a woman of her standing.

Mr. Chamberlain has just completed a $50,000 residence in Grand avenue here, which is elaborately furnished. He retains title to this. The question of alimony was settled out of court, and the husband did not appear to contest.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER, JR.,
 PRESENTS WINDOWS

First Baptist Church of New Brighton Benefited By Gift—Its Pastor Once Threatened.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—John D.
 Rockefeller, Jr., has presented to the First Baptist Church of New Brighton, Staten Island, two stained glass windows, which will be dedicated on Sunday morning.

Mr. Rockefeller and the Rev.
 Charles Schwelker, pastor of the church, are intimate friends. The church was partly destroyed on July 1 by fire and has since been rebuilt.

Mr. Schwelker received several letters demanding $5,000 two months ago, the letters saying that unless the money was left at a designated place he and his family and the church would be blown to pieces. Detectives were stationed about the place for several weeks, but the letters stopped and they were withdrawn.

POLICE CAPTAINS BLAMED.

Reduced in Rank on Account of the Riot in Boston.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—The board of police commissioners, after a three-week investigation of the riot at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which followed a political parade of students last October, finds that the highest officers in charge of the patrolemen sent to preserve order were guilty of neglect of duty in not preventing the patrolmen from clubbing students.

The board orders Capt. George A.
 Hall, who was in charge of the squad reduced to the rank of Lieutenant, and Lieutenant Henry J. Wales, Captain Hall's assistant, reduced to the rank of sergeant. Three sergeants will hereafter be ordinary patrolmen and four sergeants will lose 30 days' pay. Fifty students and six policemen were injured in the riot.

Wanted, second-hand clothing, must be sound and clean. Brokerage, Storage and Auction Co.

Grand Hotel, McDonald, Florence Garlander, Verna Royston, Louise Fitch, Lottie Dorey, Edith Hayes, Blanche Malone, Mary Crowell and Messrs.
 French McCray, Frank Raymond, Clyde Neill, Ray Hunter, Brooks Hutchinson, Will Levery, Clyde Kinsey, Harvey May, Fred Gibson, June Clark, Earl McCray, Carney Christie, Luke Robertson, and Douglas Rack-man.

Six boxes will be occupied by the jolly party and they will be chaperoned by Mrs. M. A. Joliff. After the final act they will repair to the Joliff home to watch the old year out and thus fittingly celebrate the birth of the new era.

Informal Entertainment.

Mrs. W. H. Nicholson, Jr., entertained a number of friends and neighbors informally last evening. Mrs.
 Nicholson, Sr., Mrs. Turner and Miss Knotts are now her only house guests and their pleasure was consulted in this willing away the hours with cards.

An Enjoyable Evening.

Misses Pearl and Eda Davis entertained a few friends last evening, complimentary to their guests, Miss Goldie Gaston and Mr. Friend Childs-ter, of Weston. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the participants.

TRUST IN RAISULI.

MR. PERDICARIS SAYS.

Sultan's Life in Danger and Crisis Most Serious, Declares American Once Kidnapped.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Ion Perdicaris, the American, who with his son-in-law, Cromwell Varley, a British subject, was kidnapped and held prisoner for ransom by Raisuli, the Moro-can bandit, in May of this year, in a signed dispatch to the Standard, says:

"The present situation in Morocco is most serious. The Sultan's life is endangered and those who now direct affairs in the Moorish court are liable at any moment to go en bloc to the insurgent leader, who claims the throne as the elder brother of the present Sultan."

Mr. Perdicaris says the entire country is determined to resist exclusive control by any one foreign power.
 Raisuli alone, he adds, can effect a relative degree of order in the district of Tangier, but owing to the opposition of his followers he cannot deal directly with France.

Mr. Perdicaris says he suggested to the French government that they deal with Raisuli through the foreign representatives at Tangier. He insists that Raisuli, thus supported, could maintain order. He pays a tribute to Raisuli as "superior, in many respects to any of the officials among his countrymen."

DID HE MURDER

MRS. PATTISON?

Bloodstains and Clots of Blood Holding Gray Hairs Found on Clothing in a Charlottesville Negro's Home.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Dec. 31.
 —Sergeant Robert G. Watkins, of Gordonsville, who came here in quest of the murderer of Mrs. Clem Pattison, the old white woman who was beaten to death and whose house was robbed last Monday night, on the outskirts of Gordonville, believes that he has the right man in the person of William Jones, colored, of this city.

Jones was arrested at Woodyard hotel here. His home on Parrott street was searched and a suit of blue cloth, white striped, and a light blue undershirt were found which contained bloodstains in several places.

Some of the clots of blood held gray hairs. Jones had worked for Sergeant Watkins at Gordonville, for several months. He admits that he was at Gordonville, but says he went there Sunday to see his mother and returned to Charlottesville Monday morning, in company with a negro youth who works in this city.

Jones was taken to Gordonville for a preliminary hearing.
